1. On or about 31 January 1949 the Ta Teh (Tat Tak) Institute (a Chinese Communist Party-controlled institution), New Territories, Hong Kong, was closed by order of the Hong Kong Government.
2. The institute was closed on the grounds that it had violated its charter by attempting to indoctrinate the students with Communist dogma.
3. Around 3 February 1949 the president of Ta Teh Institute, CHANG Ki-noon* (also known as CHANG Kei-woon and as CHANG Ki-wun), left Hong Kong for Communist-held areas in North China.
4. It is rumored that many Ta Teh officials have gone to Macao, where they may try to reopen the institute.
